Introduction

As part of our product review and approval process, we identify the target market for which the insurance product is intended. In practice, this means we will characterise the needs of the targeted group of customers so that the product can be developed to match these needs.

To understand the target market, our product approval process looks at the objectives, interests and characteristics of the target market and demonstrates how the product offers fair value. Our product approval process will:

- ◆ clearly specify the intended target market and their specific characteristics;
- ◆ conduct a risk assessment to identify all relevant risks to the target market and detail how we intend to overcome or mitigate them;
- ◆ identify clearly whether any vulnerability may be present in the target market and incorporate appropriate safeguards into the product as part of the design process;
- ◆ ensure that the intended distribution strategy is consistent with the target market;
- ◆ identify groups of customers for whose needs, characteristics and objectives the product is generally not suitable or will not provide the intended level of fair value.

Distribution Strategy

This product must always attach to a motor insurance as an optional add-on with a common renewal date.

The product can be sold on either an advised or non-advised basis (dependant on preference) and in line with FCA regulations. The following sales channels have been selected due to their appropriateness to the Target Market and closeness to the customer:

- ◆ Insurance Companies
- ◆ Insurance Intermediaries
- ◆ Managing General Agents

This product can be sold face-to-face, over the telephone or online through the distributor's website or via price comparison websites (PCW).

Commission Level

The maximum commission tolerance for this product is currently £25.00.

To ensure agent commissions remain appropriate and offer fair value to customers, Arc's Conduct & Governance team undertake an annual review of commission tolerances.

In carrying out our review, Arc will undertake market research using aggregator websites, such as 'confused.com' and 'comparethemarket.com', as well as a selection of independent companies for selected business types, to obtain multiple quotes from a range of various insurance companies across all relevant business types.

We must stress that Arc Legal are not a price setter, so do not dictate the level of commission that should be charged, however, based on our research we have arrived at commission tolerances which we feel are fair and reasonable for that product type.

Motor Prosecution Cover Product Review and Fair Value Assessment

We understand that each agent is different in terms of their roles, activities and operational costs and so one level of commission is not always practical across all our partner network and so it is important that there is an element of flexibility.

Where commissions exceed our tolerance, we will work with the agent to obtain further information regarding the remuneration paid to all parties in the chain, including the role and activities undertaken by that party to justify that remuneration, focusing on what functions and work the agent does as part of the process.

Depending on the rationale and evidence provided, combined with evidence of good customer outcomes, then Arc Legal will consider commissions which fall outside the tolerance levels, provided such commission levels fall within our Binding Authority Limit.

Agent commission levels are approved by Arc Legal's Business Conduct & Governance team prior to onboarding any new business opportunity and on an ongoing basis in line with agent premium returns with action being taken including any remediation work if required, where commissions fall outside tolerance.

- ◆ Claims MI, Performance MI, Conduct Risk MI and Helpline Usage;
- ◆ Customer research & feedback (complaints, claims and partners);
- ◆ Competitor analysis and benchmarking;
- ◆ Distributor Remuneration review and;

Motor Prosecution Cover Product Review and Fair Value Assessment

Fair Value Assessment – Conclusion

Based on the number of successful claims, claim pay-outs and product performance in this period, we are satisfied that customers are benefiting from this product.

A low Gross (Retail) Loss Ratio can be attributed to the relatively low average retail price and therefore a high agent acquisition cost as a % of GWP. This is due to distributors needing a minimum level of income to cover their acquisition costs.

Our Conduct Risk MI demonstrates there are no barriers for customers wishing to raise a complaint.

Our Legal Advice Helpline achieved an overall satisfaction score of 92% with 95% of survey responses stating that the advice received was easy to understand.

Taking account of our overall Fair Value Assessment, it is evident that this product continues to provide fair value to customers now & for the foreseeable future. It can therefore continue to be sold in accordance with the Target Market Statement and Distribution Strategy set out in this product review.

Annex 1 – Arc’s Product Oversight & Governance Policy

Arc’s Approach

Our approach is to ensure we meet the requirements of Product Oversight and Governance (POG) which naturally work in tandem with our:

- ◆ Product distribution strategy
- ◆ Product approvals and reviews
- ◆ Consumer Duty, Treating Customers Fairly and Conduct Risk policies
- ◆ Training and competence plans

Our aim is to maximise the long-term value of our business but not at the expense of the fair expectations of our customers. Our Senior Management Team is committed to enabling and supporting appropriate decision making so that the targets and aspirations of the business are fully aligned with good outcomes achieved for our customers.

We believe that we are managed and structured to ensure that we treat our customers fairly by having sound systems and controls, adequate skills, care and appropriate judgement. The POG policy of Arc seeks primarily to ensure the right outcomes for customers. This is the responsibility of everyone at the firm, led by senior management. We aim to minimise the danger that our actions may harm clients, threaten the sustainability of our business, cause reputational damage or risk undermining the integrity of the wider insurance market.

The extent to which POG applies depends largely on whether a firm is a manufacturer, a distributor or possibly both.

A “manufacturer” is a firm which is involved in designing, developing, creating and/or underwriting which covers activities prior to the insurance product being approved for marketing and distribution, and on a continuing basis after such approval. A “distributor” is a firm that distributes and/or recommends insurance products and services to clients.

In this regard we assess ourselves as being the lead co-manufacturer alongside our underwriters.

The product manufacturing and distribution arrangements will:

- ◆ aim to prevent and mitigate customer detriment;
- ◆ support a proper management of conflicts of interest;
- ◆ ensure that the objectives, interests and characteristics of customers are duly considered.

As part of this policy, and in conjunction with all our other related policies, we will ensure that any products we co-manufacture have been through a suitable product approval process and will ensure that written agreements are in place, clearly setting out responsibilities between the parties. We will not co-manufacture products without fully understanding the objectives, interests and characteristics of the target market or determining that they deliver fair value to prevent customer disadvantage or detriment.

Product Manufacturing Procedures

As a product manufacturer we:

- ◆ maintain, operate and review a product approval process for new products and existing products to which significant adaptations have been made, before such products are marketed or distributed;
- ◆ ensure staff involved in product design and manufacture have the necessary skills, knowledge and expertise for their roles;
- ◆ specify a target market for each product, including, where relevant, identifying groups of customers for whom the product is generally not compatible or who may be deemed to be vulnerable and therefore require further safeguards or support;
- ◆ ensure all relevant risks to the target market are assessed
- ◆ design products to be compatible with the needs, characteristics and objectives of the target market;
- ◆ ensure that the product approval process identifies whether the product (plus any identifiable packages or additional products) provides fair value to customers in the target market including whether it will continue to do so for a reasonably foreseeable period;
- ◆ where, we, as a manufacturer, appoint another firm to design products on our behalf, we will ensure that we maintain regulatory responsibility and ensure that our product approval process is followed;
