Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

AmTrust International

Modern Slavery Act 2015 Section 54 – Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement – 2020

Introduction

This Modern Slavery Act 2015 Section 54 – Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement – 2020 (the “Statement”) is published in accordance with the requirements of the transparency in supply chains provision of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 (the “Act”) for the financial year ending 31 December 2020.

The AmTrust Group is a multinational specialty property and casualty insurance group. AmTrust underwrites from various insurance platforms in Europe and has within the group claims administrators, underwriting agencies, insurance intermediaries and employment service companies including:

- AmTrust Europe Limited, our UK regulated insurance company with its head office in London
- AmTrust International Underwriters Designated Activity Company, our Irish regulated insurance company based in Dublin
- AmTrust Assicurazioni S.p.A, our Italian regulated insurance company based in Milan
- AmTrust Nordic AB, based in Stockholm and providing underwriting, risk and claims management throughout Scandinavia for AmTrust International Underwriters Designated Activity Company
- Car Care Plan Limited an administrator of motor warranty and related insurance based in Leeds

The AmTrust Group entities in scope of the Act as at 31 December 2020, whether by meeting the criteria or being part of the supply chain, are set out in the Annex, collectively “AmTrust” in this statement.

The services AmTrust provides are generally regulated activities and subject to the supervision of the relevant competent authorities in the jurisdictions in which Amtrust operates.

Approach to Slavery and Human Trafficking

We have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and we are committed to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business dealings and relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure that modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business or in any of our supply chains which include but are not limited to insurance and reinsurance arrangements and suppliers.

We are also committed to ensuring that there is transparency in our approach to tackling modern slavery consistent with our disclosure obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015. We expect the same high standards from all of our contractors, suppliers and other business partners.

We understand that modern slavery risk is not static and we will continue to take actions to mitigate this risk in the year ahead. We will ensure that we build upon the work already completed and engage with our suppliers to determine where further action is needed.

We look to hold all of our employees and suppliers or associated parties accountable to the AmTrust Modern Slavery standards.

AmTrust’s policies, procedures and training cover relevant conduct requirements and where applicable emphasize that breaches of human rights will not be tolerated. In particular, our global Code of Business Conduct & Ethics, accessible via the AmTrust Intranet, makes clear to employees the actions and behaviour expected of them. We strive to maintain the highest standards of employee conduct and ethical behaviour including as it relates to operating and managing our supply chain. Training on AmTrust’s Code of Business Conduct & Ethics forms part of the global suite of mandatory training.

To further reinforce accountability with our employees, in 2020 we launched a new online mandatory training module dedicated to Human Trafficking which was rolled out across AmTrust International. This module now forms part of our annual mandatory training framework. Non-completions are monitored and escalated accordingly. Additionally, all employees are required to complete an annual attestation as to their understanding and compliance with the principles contained within this Statement.

Any concerns with regard to Modern Slavery can be reported via multiple channels as noted within this Statement including via our Anonymous Global Confidential Ethics Hot Line, hosted via a third party and accessible via the AmTrust Intranet homepage to make it easy for workers to make disclosures without fear of retaliation.

Due Diligence Processes

AmTrust continues to enhance its supplier on-boarding processes in conjunction with the Global Procurement and Third Party Risk Management (“TPRM”) policies to ensure that these remain reflective of current practices, continue to incorporate best practices and meet the requirements of prevailing legislation and regulations.

AmTrust has a comprehensive supplier on-boarding and risk assessment process. Procurement works closely with supply chain relationship managers to complete the required due diligence to ensure that we manage and mitigate any associated risks, including our obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015.

In 2020, we enhanced the TPRM reporting methodology and escalation process providing regular reporting to the relevant stakeholders within AmTrust. The majority of AmTrust’s suppliers are deemed low risk (due to their location and the types of services provided to AmTrust) however, based on our risk assessment methodology, we ask that the suppliers sign a contractual commitment to the obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2015 or have published statements detailing their commitment to the Act.

As it relates to AmTrust employees, we conduct “right to work” checks and background screening for our employees in line with the remit fulfilled, business and country in which the employee is based and the applicable regulations. During 2020, work was undertaken to review and identify further opportunities to enhance our screening (both on hire and during the course of employment) across our different locations, including the increased use of third party support with implementation continuing through 2021.

Reporting mechanisms

Employees, business partners and suppliers with concerns regarding modern slavery can report them through the following channels:

- a) Human Resources Department
- b) Compliance Department
- c) Confidential Ethics Hot Line (www.amtrushotline.ethicspoint.com / UK tel: 0808 234 6655) – full details, including a list of international numbers, are available via the AmTrust intranet with the site hosted by EthicsPoint in order to protect anonymity
- d) <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/report-modern-slavery-as-a-first-responder> (or other relevant country government reporting mechanisms as applicable)

Next Steps

We are committed to maintaining and improving systems and processes to prevent slavery and human trafficking. In 2021 we aim to:

- Continue to review and identify opportunities to enhance supplier due diligence and risk assessment methodologies and any associated training required;

- Review and identify opportunities to further highlight our zero tolerance approach to Modern Slavery within our supply chains or in any part of our business throughout our policies and processes;
- Update and relaunch the online mandatory training module on Human Trafficking;
- Continue to make use of the Intranet platform and regular newsletters to reinforce our approach to Modern Slavery, and, with the gradual return to the office in the second half of 2021, identify opportunities to continue to raise awareness with employees;
- Continue to focus on the development and monitoring of key performance indicators in relation to hiring, training, reporting and supplier management and taking appropriate actions as needed;
